REPUBLICAN HOUSE IS IN MAUDLIN STAGE.

Republican leadership in the house has degenerated to that point where it can hardly be described without the days and dimensions of men like Reed and Cannon to the time and antics of Mondell and Campbell it is surely a far cry. Campbell's mystified maneuvers anent the Woodruff-Johnson resolution calling for congressional investigation of Daugherty's laxity in prosecuting war graft are very suggestive of a muddled waind and a monumental cowardice. The logic dwelling in the average man's mind causes him to wonder what knowledge of guilt on the part of nib republicans may cause the leaders to refuse at all cost to permit the lifting of the veil which partly covers the doings of the department of Justice. It will be recalled that when the interest that could not use President Wilson, carried the house in 1918, the first thing they did was to create the

Graham smelling committee, whone purpose was to dig up enough democratic venality in connection with war contracts to damn the party for forty years to come. That committee sat and labored through winter's snow and summer's sun and finally reported that the finger of suspicior pointed in the direction of one great and the groom catches thunder. corporation-the Standard Steel company of Pittsburg, controlled by Andrew W. Mellon, who, shortly thereafter was appointed by the president to take complete charge of the people's funds in his capacity as secretary of the treasury. The ardor which the republicans showed in creating the Graham committee and in giving it plenteous funds and sweeping authority is sadly missing when it is now proposed to investigate one of the members of the republican
